J. Boyd, Secretary.

COUNTY OF AYR.

Avr., ad. October, 1798.

AT the MICHAELMAS MEETING of the Freeholder's of the County of Ayr, assembled at the Head Conrt, WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM, Esq. of Lainshaw, Preses, the following Resolutions were moved by David Boyle, Esq. Advocate, and seconded by John Hamilton, Esq. of Sundrum, and unanimously agreed to—

J. RESOLVED, That this Meeting taking into consideration the present state of the law of Scotland with respect to bail, is decidedly of opinion, that the sums for which bail is appointed to be found by persons, apprehended for criminal offences under the authority of the Statute, 1701, C. 6. and of that of the 11th of Geo. J. C. 25, however adequate they may have been to the state of this country, at the periods of the enactment of these respective statutes, bear at present no proper relation to the circumstances of the times, the situation of individuals, and the general advancement of the country.

If. That it is the opinion of this Meeting, that the smallness of the sums allowed to be taken as security in ballable offences, under authority of the Magistrate, and to render the most salutary laws nugatory and defective, by affording a temptation and facility to the commission of the most dangerous and attrocious offences, with comparative impunity.

III. That this Meeting, convinced of the great and serious cious offences, with comparative impunity.

HI. That this Meeting, convinced of the great and scrious evils resulting to the country at large from the present state of the law of Seotland with respect to haif, as evinced by the numberless escapes from the justice of the laws, of persons accused of the most dangerous and attrocious offences, is of opinion, that an amendment in this department of the law, is now peculiarly necessary and expedient.

nion, that an amendment in this department of the law, is now peculiarly necessary and expedient.

IV. That this Meeting, an full reliance upon the wisdom of the Legislature, do therefore resolve, that copies of the foregoing Resolutions be signed and transmitted by the Preses, to the Right Hon. the Earls of Egliston, Cassillis, Dumfries, and Glasgow, to Col. Fullarton of Fullarton, the member of Parliament for this county, and to John Campbell, Esq. the member of Parliament for this district of Burghs; and that the Preses do request, in the name of this Meeting, that they will give their support to any bill that may be introduced into either House of Parliament, for the purpose of altering and amending the present law of Scotland, with respect to bail in criminal offences.

It was moved by Mr Hamilton of Sundrum, and seconded by Mr Cunninghame of Enterkine, and unanimously agreed by Mr Cunninghame of Enterkine, and unanimously agreed to, that the thanks of the Meeting be given to Mr Boyle for his having brought forward the above resolutions upon this occasion.

The march of the Ruffians has not been counterended. They are 60,000 in number; the first divifion of which, 30,000, were expected at Teschen on the 20th. The van-guard is already arrived in Bohemia. Besides the 60,000, 40,000 are to be collected on the frontiers of Poland, to make as it were a body of referre. The march of another body of Russians through Moldavia and Wallachia, against Widdin, is fully confirmed.

The Porte has received information, that the Araba had had the imprudence to attack Buonaparte in his entrenchments, in which attempt they suffered very much, but the French also suffered greatly.

Buonaparte has occupied Cairo with 6000 of his best troops. He has lost many men by sickness.

CONSTANTINOPLE, SEP. 2.

We yesterday enjoyed an unexpected and splendid bt. The Russian sleet from the Black Sea sailed by The feet has on board 4000 troops. Admiral Nelion, however, having totally deliroyed the French fleet, the Ruffians are expected first to attack the ci-devant Venetian islands, and, after taking them, to attack Malta.

ITALY, 31P. 16. War is expected foon to take place between France and Naples. The latter power has 80,000 men under arms. More French troops are marching against the frontiers of Naples, where, in addition to the army already on foot, 50,000 militia are railing.

The three French frigates which conveyed General Humbert and his troops to Ireland, have all returned fafe to Bourdeaux; and the officer who commanded the division has brought back with him four beautiful horses, which were given him in a present by the Uni-

From Basle we learn, that the war with the Insurents in Underwarld is completely ended .- The Swifs defended themselves desperately, and obliged the French to retreat feveral times, but after twelve hours fighting, were obliged to furrender, with all their ammunition, &c In the town of Stanz only fixteen houses were left standing, and feveral other places were laid in ashes.

FORGERY ON THE BANK.

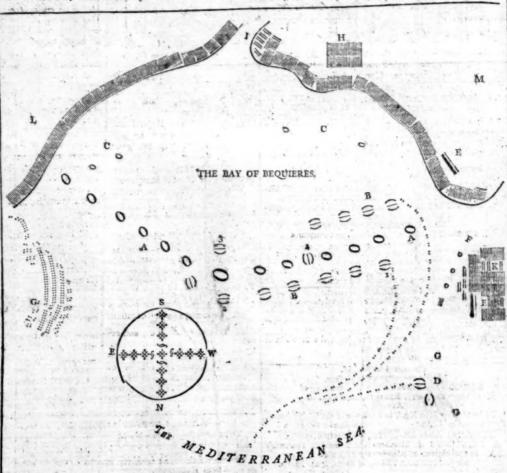

By a Gentleman who arrived in town on Saturday night from Lancashire, we are informed of the following particulars respecting the fabrication of counterfeit nk-notes to a great extent :-

In consequence of forged bank-notes being put in circulation in different parts of Lancashire, measures were taken to trace from whence they had been issued; and a variety of circumstances transpired to mark Mr -, as an object of suspicion; and as the enquiry was purfued, feeming proofs of his guilt multiplied. On Wednesday last, a number of Peace Officers went to his house at Whitston, near Prescot, Lancashire, and took him into cultody, on the premises they feized the copperplates from which the forged notes appear to have been printed, together with a number of counterfeits in various stages, some with complete impressions, and others in an unfinished state, and also different tools, supposed to have been made use of in forming and graving the plates, besides paper resembling that issued by the Bank; ink, a rolling press, and, in thort, every implement and material necessary for carrying on this nefarious employment.

After a long examination before a Magistrate, Mi was committed to gaol for a further hearing .-Two gentlemen holding fituations under the Governor and Company of the Bank, and some other persons, are gone to Prescot to attend the second examination of

LONDON GAZETTE.

DOWNING STREET, October 6. 1798.

By advices received from his Majesty's Minister at Constantinople, dated September 3, it appears, that war has been declared by the Grand Signior against the French; that the French Minister, with his whole Legation, has been fent to the Caltle of the Seven Towers, and that some French merchant ships in the harbour had been taken poffession of. The Russian auxiliary fquadron was in fight of Constantinople on that day.

PLYMOUTH, On. 6.

Late on Thursday evening arrived here, his Majesty's ship Grampus, of 54 guns, Capt. Saunderson, and the Proselyte, of 32 guns, Capt. Falk, from Jamaica and Cape Nichola Mole, with 41 fail of ships under convoy, put in here by contrary wind; the other par, convoy, fact are gone up St George's Channel, unde convoy of the Roebuck, of 24 guns, Capt. Burrows. The Tourterelle, of 32 guns, Captain West, failed from Jamaica with the sleet, but being very leaky, parted company last Friday, to make the best of her way to England. The Chance, of Leith, Capt. Bishop, became so leaky at fea, that the crew were obliged to abandon her, after having fet her on fire; except this veifel and another, the whole fleet are faid to have reached the Channel.

Came in, the Triton of 32 guns, Capt. Gore from the westward; about a week since she captured a small schooner privateer, which is not yet arrived; but no doubts are entertained for her fafety, as the Triton was obliged to leave her, having come express.

On Monday night about fix o'clock, as Mr Vernon, of the Treasury, and another gentleman, were travel-ing in a post-chaife, near Merton turnpike, they were Ropped by two footpads, who robbed them of their money and watches, together with two trunks, containing a large quantity of wearing apparel, trinkets and other articles.

OCTOBER 8.

The gallant Admiral Nelson is now on his voyage down the Mediterranean with his prizes. He has left Captain Troubridge, of the Culloden, with fix or feven fhips, with the command on the coast of Egypt, and the English fleet is moored in Bequieres bay, in the very position which the French occupied.

Letter from Captain Ball, of his Majesty's ship Alexander, dated Bequier Road, mouth of the Nile.

"Before this reaches you, you will have heard of the battle of the Nile, for the particulars of which I refer to Sir Horatio Nelfon's public letter. I only received a flight wound by a mufket ball taking a piece of flesh from my left cheek, which will leave a small scar.— My ship was engaged within pistol shot of L'Orient when she caught fire, after which I encreased my distance from her, but could not get far enough to avoid the dreadful effects of her explosion. She fet fire to my ship in four places, and nothing but the most wonderful exertions extricated us from that perifous state.

66 My ship has received so much damage, that I have not a doubt but she will be in England in two or three months. With respect to our action, I shall only observe, that the Admiral and Captains had a good o pinion of each other before the battle, and now we are more attached than ever.

" The Captains have each subscribed 301. for the widows and orphans of those who fell so glorionsly on the 1st of August; and the Admiral has joined, by gi ving 100l. The Captains have likewife subscribed 20l. a piece for the purchase of a sword, to be presented to Sir Horatio Nelfon. " We are arrived in Cawland Bay, after a cruize of three months within one day. When I wrote to you last, we had but about seventeen days provisions in the thip, and when we were reduced to four days provifions, it came to blow very hard, fo that it was neces. fary to stand out some distance to sea, the Ethalion Clyde, and Sylph in company; the fea ran too high to fend boats on board thefe ships, therefore we were ob liged to go upon short allowance; this, however, did not last above four days. The weather becoming for again, we were supplied with provisions from our fo dron. At this time we were flanding in towards the land, when on Monday the 17th instant, in the mona ing, at day-light, we found ourselves about three mile and half diltant from a French fquadron of mei o war, confishing of one fail of the line, seven frigates, and a schooner; the morning was very hazy, and ball calm ; the hands were immediately turned up to make fail away from them. In about an hour a breeze fpung up, and the French squadron hauled away from the theering S. W. One hour after they altered their course to S. E. We carried a light at our mast head all the night before, to shew the figuation of the Box! dicea to our fquadron, and from the French fquadron being at day light in chase of us, suppose they must have feen the light at our mast-head. The Clyde, viously to this, had parted company for England, ha ving in the late bad weather fprung her bow por. Cap-tain Keata fent the Ethalion and Sylph after the Brench fquadron to watch their motions, with orders to follow them wherever they went, and we flood toward Ushant, in hopes to find Lord Bridport, but unlucki ly he was with the fleet in Torbay; we fired a voile of feven great guns every ten minutes, to alarm any our ships that might be near; this was of service, for brought the Clyde to us again, and which Capital Keats ordered with dispatches to Admiral Kingfind Two days before we came in (the 24th), we looke into Brest, where there were then lying fifteen fail of the line, four frigates, and four corvettes, besides small er armed vessels."

Extract of a Letter from Captain Brown, of the Kite shop of war, just arrived from Cuxhaven, dated Yarmouth; Oct. a BUONAPARTE, after having flormed Alexandria, had penetrated as far as Grand Cairo, where he found his fituation fo unpleafant and dangerous, from the Turk and fick of his army, that he had fent orders for the fleet to hold themselves in readiness to embark the troops. All the transports, and two or three frigates, were in the harbour of Alexandria, where they will either be burnt by us or the Turks; fo that I think Buons. PARTE's conquests are nearly at an end. On their an rival, it was intended to have got all the line of battle ships into the harbour also; but it was found impossible for L'Orient to get in, and the Admiral would not confent to her being fent back to Toulon. They were therefore moored in the bay where they were attacked and thought themselves so secure that they never had an idea of the British fleet daring to attack them. The French garrison at Alexandria saw the whole of the befinefs, without having it in their power to affilt. Since the action, they intercepted a boat with the dispatche &cc. All the letters, both public and private, are was in very low fraits, every body withing to return and the natives are fo inveterate against them, that the re obliged to fend an escort of several bundred men maevery courier, to prevent his being cut to pieces.

WEYMOUTH, September 6. This evening the Royal Family honoured the theatre with their prefence. As foon as the curtain drew up, Mr Fither came forward and spoke the following occafional Address on Admiral Nelson's victory:

Another Conquest swells Britannia's fame!
Let grateful Mem'ry wait on Nelson's name!
In distant Seiss the conquering Hero shews
How vain the projects of our Gallic foes.
When the glad tidings reach'd the Public ear,
From Beauty's eye distill'd the joyous tear;
Down Manhood's cheek the tide of rapture flow'd,
And every breast with kindling transports glow'd.
Nelson! thy praise from shore to shore shall ring. Nelson! thy praise from shore to shore shall ring Joy to the Nation! Joy to England's King! Such prowessevery tribute justly craves! E'en Arabs shout, "Britannia rules the Waves." With well-carn'd laurels grace the Victor's brow, Recall the deeds of Vincent, Dimcan, Howe! Illustrious Names! to every Briton dear, Here then, the Altar of our Thanks we'll rest.

Fleets led to battle by such Men as these, Shall fix in Brunswick's hand the Trident of the Seat

This address was received with the most rapturous God fave the King was then fung, the whole nouse joining in full chorus.

EDINBURGH-OCTOBER 11.

At the usual hour of putting the first part of this paper to prefs, an accident happened by which the types were thrown down, the whole of which confifted of advertisements. This we hope will plead our apology with those adverting friends who are thus disappointed. Their favours shall be attended to in Saturday's paper.

WHITEHALL, October 6. 1798.

THE King has been pleafed to grant the dignity of a Baron of the kingdom of Great Britain to Sir Horatio Nelfon, K. B. Rear-Admiral of the Blue Squadron of his Majesty's fleet, and the heirs-male of his body lawfully begotten, by the name, stile, and title of Baron Nelson of the Nile, and of Burnham Thrope, in the county of Norfolk.

The London papers received this morning do not contain a fingle paragraph of importance, if we except what follows:

An express arrived at Yarmouth on Thursday, for Admiral Lord DUNCAN to fail immediately, in confequence of a report of the Dutch fleet being out.-Tho he wind was at east, the noble Admiral worked out in lefs than two hours.

It is faid, that fome fresh accounts have been received from the squadron under the command of Sir John Borlase Warren, who was left in pursuit of the which lately failed from Brest, determined to bring them to action, let their destination be wheresoever is might.

Admiral, now Baron NELSON of the Nile, is the fon of the Rev. Mr NELSON, Rector, Burnham Thorpe, near Holkham, in Norfolk, and is faid to be related to the WALFOLE family. Admiral Nelfon entered early into the fercice, was a Lieutenant in 1777, and a Post Captain in 1779.

Lady NELSON was the widow of a West Indian Gentleman, and niece to Mr HERNERT, late Gover-nor of Nevis, where the was married to Sir Horatto, and given away by the Duke of CLARENCE.

Nothing, it feems, can exceed the chagrin of Captain TROWERIDGE on the accident, occasioned, fome measure, by extreme ardour, which ran the Culloden on shore, and deprived him of the share which he would otherwise have had in the danger and glory of the battle. The accident, however, may in fome respects have been propitious, as it was a guide to the other ships of the division. how nearly they could approach.

Yesterday was marrried here George Cinson, Efq. of Brewlands, to Miss Jessy Wightman, youngelt daughter of John Wightman, Esq. late of Maulsey.

On the 8th instant was married at Elgin, SAMUEL MADDEN, Efq. Captain in the 15th foot, to Miss MARGARET CUMMING, eldest daughter of Colonel Cumming Gordon of Altyre.

Married at Leith, on the 9th instant, Mr ALEXAN DER GEORGE MILNE, merchant, to Miss MARGARET OCILVIE, eldest daughter of the late Capiain Ogilvie, of his Majesty's Excise yacht. Tuesday last Mrs Dundas of Arniston was fafely delivered of a fon, at Melville Castle. Died at Ramoir, the 29th September laft, John Hogo, Esq. of Ramoir, aged 64 years. Died on Thursday se ennight at Defart, Ireland, the Rev. Bellingham Swan, aged 102 years, he was curate to Dean Swift. Notwithstanding his great age, he retained his faculties to the last hour of his existence.

Mrs Davidson, wife of the Rev. Doctor Davidson, Principal of Glasgow College, died there on the 5th current.

Died at his house in Leith, the 29th ult. Mr JAMES RENNIE, jun. merchant there.

. Yesterday, Lieut. TRENCH of the Artillery Company of the Shropshire Regiment of Militia, was interred here with military honours. The officers furrounded the pall, and the regiment walked in folema flow procession from the Castle to the place of interment; the mufic playing the usual folemn airs.

This gendeman unfortunately fell from his horfe a femalays ago, and received a contusion which occasioned his death. He was universally effected, and his death is much regretted, Yellerday, the Lord Provolt, Magistrates and Coun cil, appointed William Dalaystres, Efq. to be Admiral of Leith, Thomas Smith, Efq. Baron Baile of Canongate, William Hall, Efq. Baron

Bailie of Portiburgh. Yesterday the Magistrates and Council of Edinburgh resolved to tracfinit a Congratulory Address to his Majesty on the late glorious victory of his Majesty's fleet under the command of Admiral Lord Nalson of the Nile 1 and have requested a meeting of the principal inhabitants, relative to the opening a subscription for relief of the widows, families, and relatives, of the feamen and marines killed or wounded on board Lord Nalson's fleet. And authorised the Lord Provost, in name of the community, to subscribe 100 guineas.

This being the eleventh of October, is the anniv fary of Lord Duncan's victory over the Dutch fleet. Every Briton will certainly consider it as a day dear in the annals of his country; and his Lordthip made it so dear a day to the Dutch, that it is not likely they will foon forget it.

Monday arrived at Dumbreck's Hotel, St Andrew's

Countels of Suppole, with the Square, the Earl and Countels of SUFFOLK, with the Hon. THOMAS and Lady KATHARINE HOWARD; General and Mrs FORBES, from India; Mrs Genera

Ross, and Mr and Mrs Cumming, from Demarara.

Thursday, the Rev. Mr James Burns was ordain ed one of the Ministers of the city and parish of Brechin, in the place of the Rev. Mr Bisset, deceased. In the lift of fubicribers to the Northern Infirm

In the hit of subscribers to the Northern Infirmary formerly advertised, the name of Evan Ballete, Efg. of Brittol, for 1001, was omitted.

Mr RAEBURN has just finished a very striking portrait of Mr Elder, which was painted at the particular request of the Senatus Academicus of the University of Edinburgh. It is to be hung up in the hall of the new college, of which he laid the foundation when first time Lord Prevost of this city.

It is with pleasure we remark, that the merits of this deserving magnitrate, who distinguished himself so this deferving magistrate, who distinguished himself so peculiarly in the preservation of the public peace, has been recognized by this learned and respectable body.

Tuesday night a fire was discovered in the Pylades floop of war, now in the Roads, which happily was got under. The Naval Office lighter went off and brought ashore the gun-powder.

On Thursday, the Angus Fenciales marched from Banst to Peterhead; and same day came into Banst, the Ross-shire Militia, where, we hear,

At a very numerous meeting of the Julices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the county of Berwick, at their Michaelmas Head-Court, a motion having been made, and seconded, " that it should be " recommended to the Member of Parliament for the "county, to take all the means in his power to pro"more the substitution of a Tax on income, instead of the increase of the assessed taxes established during " the last festion of Parliament,"-the same was, after a very full discussion, unanimously agreed to; and Mr Hay, their Preses, was requested to signify this reso-lution to Mr Balllie, their representative in Parlia-

The Aurora, of Lynn, failed from Hull on the morning of the 27th ult. with a cargo of butter, cheefe, and bacon; on that awful night, off Itching, near 'the port of her deltination, the was unfortunately loft, and all on board, confilting of her crew, five in number, and feven passengers, perished!—The vessel had on board an iron vatt, or boiler, nine feet high from the surface of the deck, and in diameter reaching from malt to maft; which, it is supposed, was the chief cause of this deplorable accident

As a proof of the very high opinion entertained by the Captains and Officers of Admiral Nelfon's fleet of his gallantry and professional skill, the Captains have subscribed 20 guineas each to purchase a sword, which is to be prefented by them to their noble Commander.

By a letter from Forfar, we are informed, that the LOYAL FORFAR VOLUNTEERS, on the Sth current, fired three vollies at the Crofs at twelve o'clock noon, in honour of the figual victory obtained by the British fleet, under the command of Admiral Sir Pforatio NELSON, over the French fleet on the fift of August

It is impossible for us to infert all the details of rejoicings on account of Admiral Necson's victory, that have been sent us from different parts of the country. Suffice it to fay, that one fentiment of gratitude and joy feems to have animated the whole inhabitants of Sir Sidney Smith is appointed to act with the Rufflan fleet in the Mediterranean, and has failed in the Tigre of 80 guns, for that purpole.

REYOICINGS FOR ADMIRAL NELSON, FICTORY

... stikling, oct. 6. 1798. ... On the arrival of the Gazette, yellerday afternoon, announcing the brilliant conquest by Gir H. Natson over the Freach sieet, the bells were instantly rang. To-day the guns of the Castie were fired; the Volunteers formed at the cross, and the Pertifihire militia, on the glacis of the fort, fired a fendergoe. The two corps marched to church, and joined the Chaplain of the Volunteers in singing plasms, and offering up a prayer of thanksgiving to "Almighty Goo for blessing his blee-jessy's arms in so great a cidory."

In the evening a general illumination and ranging of bells concluded the celebrations of the glorious first of August:

... ALLOA, OCT. 6. 1798.

The news of Admiral Neuson's glorious and most decifive victory was received here yesterday, with the greatest heartfelt satisfaction and joy. In the evening, the town was illuminated, and there was a meeting of a umber of respectable inhabitants, who drank the health of the brave Admiral, his officers and failors, who for gallantly stood forth in defence of their King and Country.

This day, the Rofs-shire Feneibles, commanded by Captain Mackenzie, were drawn up, and fired a fende-joye; and Mr ERSKINE of Mar has caused a very large bon-sire to be placed upon the highest ground of Amid the prevailing emulation in rejoicing at Admiral Nelson's glorious victory, I hope you will think the efforts of the ancient burgh of Lanark deferving of notice. Upon Saturday evening last, at sive o'clock, a detachment of the Loyal Lanark Volunteers, commanded by Provost Vara, their Captain, were drawn up at the Clydesdale Inn, whence they proceeded to the Cross, and fired three rounds. Two field pieces from Mir Dales's mills made their entrance at the head of the town, and after firing a salute, they advanced to the Cross, where they fired twenty-one rounds. At fix o'clock, the town was very grandly illuminated, when the Magistrates and Council, together with a very large and respectable meeting of the inhabitants, reapaired to the county-hall, and drank a great many appropriate toosts with repeated shouts of appliatic. The evening was spent with the utmost harmony, good humour and convivality. The town and mills of New Lanark were also illuminated. The children boarded by Mr Dale at the works, amounting to spwards of four hundred, had a glass and a dance upon the occasion, and the young creatures seemed to participate in the general joy.

INVINE, OCTOBER 8.

A confirmation of the late glorious and unparalleled victory obtained by Admiral Nelsow over the Toulon fleet, no fooner reached Irvine on Friday laft, than the bells were fet a ringing. Soon after the town was elegantly illuminated, and crowds of the inhabitants of every age and condition, paraded the flreets with real heart-felt joy and loyalty expredied in every countenance; and, on Saturday, part of the First, or Strashfiey fencible regiment, quartered there, with their colours, and two battalion guns attached to the regiment followed by the Irvine Volunteers, marched from the crofs to a field adjuining to the town, where they drew up, with one gun on each flank, and fired twenty-one rounds of the guns, in the intervals of the crofs, formed the circle, and drank the usual loyal toasts, including that of the great and joyous occasion, with repeated cheers, occasionally dancing fome Highland reels with great glee, furrounded by a cheerful and happy concourse of inhabitants. The magistrates, officers, and some others, thereafter dined together, and spent the evening in joy and harmony. The delightful serenity of the weather, the glorious occasion, and all other circumstances united, conspired not only in giving general joy, but also to excite, in the hear of every person present, true gratitude to the Great Giver of all good, for the late and other recent soccasion first Majesty's arms, over our inveterate foes. INVINE, OCTOBER 8.

Nothing could exceed the joy and exultation of the inhabitants of AREROATH, on heating the news of the glorious victory obtained by Admiral Natson, over the Freuch fleet. On Saturday, at twelve o'clock noon, a royal falute was fired from the Battery, and the Volunteers turned out, and fired a few-de-joye. An entertainment was given, in the evening, in the Townhall, to which the officers of a troop of the Windfor Foresters (who arrived late in the afternoon) were invited, and the health of the gallant Admiral, and his brave fellows, went cheerfully round.

ULLAPOOL, September 27. 1798.

On the 9th inftant arrived here Colonel and Mrs M'LEOD of Colbecks and fuite, on their way to the Western Isles, to raise recruits for the PRINCESS CHAR-LOTTE ROYAL M'LEOD Fencible Regiment, and yefterday they embarked on board Sir John Reid's new cutter for Rafa, having been detained here near three weeks by adverse winds. However, the Colonel has nothing to regret on that account, having obtained a number of fine young fellows, the flower of Lochbroom, who came forward in a very, handsome manner to aid their country at this momentous crifia; and we are compelled to add, in justice to that Gentleman, that contrary to the artifices too commonly made use of in recruiting, his conduct in this business has been at once highly honourable to himfelf and fatisfactory to the pu-blic; and from his great fuccess hitherto, and the af-fistance which he will no doubt receive in the quarter where he now is, it is but fair to conclude, that he will fhortly have completed one of the finest regiments in the

We cannot difmis this subject without bestowing the highest encomiums on the Colonel's truly benevolent and amiable Lady, whose condescention and goodness of heart will long be remembered in this rifing colony, whose inhabitants may well fay, in the beautiful language of scripture—

"When the car heard ber, then it blessed ber,
"And when the eye saw ber, it gave witness of ber,"

HERRINGFISHERY. BURNTISLAND, OCT. 4. 1798.

There is a very fine appearance of the herring fishery in the Frith. Adventurers are beginning to take up their lodgings in town, and their forelands on the fhore. Some cargoes of fine Lockfine herrings have arrived. Part of them have been hung, fmoked, and barrelled in a red-herring house, others packed up for the white herring markets. Some vessels with falt and barrels are arrived from Wick, in Caithness, but none of the adventurers, except Mrs Arrow, from that quarter, where the early fishing has failed.

There are many letters in town from Dublin, which state, that it is the determination of the Lord Lieutenant to make a general and first investigation into the flate and condition of the peafantry, and the manufacturing poor, and to call the attention of the Irish Parliament to such radical regulations as shall give a new face to the country. Absentees and rack renters are the leading grievances which the lower orders have to complain of; but there are still others that call loudly for legislative attention.

In the lift of voluntary fubscriptions for carrying of the war, raifed at Jamaica, and published in the paper of that place, we find the following, which deferves particular notice :

" Nathaniel Bayly, 1000l. towards enabling the good people of the British Empire to defend themselve against the plunderers of the world, and 20,000l. more per annum, fo long as the war lasts, provided the pre-fent measure is carried on, of abolishing all sinecure and weless places, and that the Bishops and Superior Clergy are made to contribute one half at least of their church

FULLER, in his Church History, relates, on the authority of Carew's Survey of Cornwall, a flory of Henry VIII. (the effects of whose bounty towards the fa-mily of Ruffel are so conspicuous in the present day,) which ferves to prove, that in more inflances than one, caprice rather than merit influenced that Monarch in his liberalities.- " Master John Champernoun, fon and heir apparent to Sir Philip Champernoun, of Modbery, in Devon, followed the Court, and by his pleafant conceits won good grace with the King. It happened two or three gentlemen, the King's fervants, and Mr Chamernoun's acquaintance, waited at a door where the King was to pass forth, with purpose to beg of his High-ness a large parcel of Abbey lands specified in their petition. Champernoun was very inquifitive to know their fuit, but they would not impart the nature thereof. This while out comes the King, they kneel down, fo doth Mr Champernoun, being affured by an implicit faith that courtiers would beg nothing hurtful to themfelves. They prefer their petition—the King grants it—they render him humble thanks, and so doth Mr Champernoun. Afterwards he requires his share-they deny it—he appeals to the King—the King avows his equal meaning in the largefs. Whereupon his companions were fain to allot to this gentleman the Priory of Sr Germain in Cornwall, (valued at 2431. 8s. of yearly rent, fince by him and his heirs fold to Mr Eliot,) for his partage. - Here a dumb beggar met with a blind giver, the one as little knowing what he asked as the other what he granted ;-thus King Heory made curfory charters, and in transitu transacted Abbey lands .-I could add how he gave a religious house of some value to Mittrifs Cornwallis, for prefenting him with a dith of puddings which pleafed his palate."

We understand, that the Justices of Peace for the county of Aberdeen, at a Court held on Monday last, in terms of the late act of Parliament for decision of fmall debts, found a woman liable in payment of a fhearer's wages, belides the highest statutory expences, for breach of engagement to a farmer, to whom the was hired as a harvest servant. We mention this cirstance as a caution to servants, as the Justices appeared resolved to support the just rights of masters trusting to engagements .- In the above instance, it appeared, that owing to the fervant's failure to implement her fervices, the farmer's corns are still in the fields.

The fashionable flower now hoisted by the ladies in front of their bonnets, is a hint to fecrecy; a hint very necessary to our modern beaux, who if they obtain a kifs from a pretty woman, must now take it under the rofe.

No criminal business depending before the Court, Lord CRAIG gave judgment in three cases of appeal; and this ends the southern circuit.

This morning, the first division of the Ayr and Renfrew militia, under the command of the Earl of Glafgow, marched hence for Linlithgow, where they are to be quartered during the winter.

Some of the French Journalists make the reparation of their late great lofs very eafy. They fay they will get back all their ships when they take London. In the mean time, they are to make the Sovereigns of the Italian ports, who furnished Admiral NELSON with provifions, pay the expences and cost of the ships they have loft !

ESTATE IN PERTHSHIRE FOR SALE.

THE LORDSHIP of KINCARDINE, comprehending the BARONY of KINCARDINE, the LANDS of LURG, with the Teinds thereof included; the BARONY of TULLI-ALLAN, with the Right of Patronage of the Parish Church of Tulliallan, and sundry other lands and heritages, all lying in the parish of Tulliallan, and sherifidom of Perth.

in the parish of Tullialian, and shermdom of Perth.

This estate is delightfully situated on the north side of the Frith of Forth, along which it stretches for upwards of three miles being about four miles to the westward of Culross, three miles to the eastward of Clackmannan, and twelve miles from Stirling. It contains several extensive young plantations of fir, interspersed with oak and larch, from ten to thirty years old, and a great quantity of thriving and valuable full-crown timber of verions. quantity of thriving and valuable full-grown timber of various kinds, beautifully disposed through the grounds. The whole abounds in coal, and in quarries of excellent free stone, particularly the farm of Longannat, bordering on the Frith, where undertakers for building frequently employ quarriers, there being a pier for shipping the stones. There is also stone on some of the farms iron stone on some of the tarms.

From the nature of the coast, and the great abundance of stone and timber the estate affords for embankments, a considerable tract of fine rich ground, not less than 100 acres, might be gained from the sea, at a moderate expense.

By an accurate survey of the estate made this summer, it is ascertained to contain in whole 1686 acres Scots measure, whereof 963 acres are rich arable land, 230 acres pasture, 352 whereor you are a are such a rabile land, 230 acres pasture, 352 acres planting, 108 acres water, eight acres stances for houses and yards, and 25 acres small feus.—The present free rent is only about 13701 Sterling, of which about 901 consists of feuduties; but the greater part of the leases expire in 1800 and 1801, when a very considerable rise of rent may be depended upon.

The valued rent is upwards of 2400l. Scots, thereby affording six freehold qualifications in the county, as the whole estate holds of the Crown.

The old Castle of Tullialian is presently in ruins; but there
